Air Quality Assessors and Everest Building Consulting Group Announce Merger

Altamonte Springs, Florida and Cheyenne, Wyoming – December 28, 2023 – Air Quality Assessors (AQA) and Everest Building Consulting Group have joined forces and are delighted to announce their merger, which will take effect on January 1, 2024. Moving forward, the combined company will operate under the new name, Everest Building Consulting Group.

The companies are very excited to present this merger, which unites two reputable firms with unique strengths and expertise, making them a trailblazer in the building damage consulting industry. Everest strives to offer the same quality and high standards as AQA has for many years.

Everest will offer all of Air Quality Assessors' services and a full range of building damage consulting services, including but not limited to:

- Building damage engineering evaluations
- Professional Xactimate estimates
- Indoor air quality assessments and testing

Everest Building Consulting Group is a Wyoming-based consulting firm with offices nationwide, and now to include the state of Florida.
